DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claims 48-84, drawn to a method of prevention and/or treatment of a list of conditions comprising administering the claimed composition.

Group II, claims 85-100, drawn to a composition comprising a plant or fish oil, and a non β-oxidizable fatty acid entity.

Group III, claim(s) 101-108, drawn to a method of producing an animal based product comprising feeding an animal a feed comprising the claimed composition.

2. The inventions listed as Groups I-III do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: the feature common to Groups I-III is the composition comprising (1) plant oil and/or fish oil, and (2) one or more non β-oxidizable fatty acid entity. However, US 4,849,019 discloses compositions comprising oils, such as soybean oil, rapeseed oil, palm oil, corn oil, cotton seed oil, coconut oil, palm kernel oil, rice oil, sesame oil, safflower oil, et., and phospholipids, such as phosphatidyl choline and phosphatidyl ethanolamine. Thus, the feature common to Groups I-III is not a special technical feature.

3. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

A specifically disclosed condition, such as insulin resistance, obesity, diabetes, etc., and a non β-oxidizable fatty acid entity, such as tetradecylthioacetic acid, tetradecylselenoacetic acid, 3-thia-15-heptadecyne, phosphatidyl choline, phosphatidyl serine, etc.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to first elect one of the invention groups I, II or III, and then elect a single species (both a condition and a non β-oxidizable fatty acid entity if Group I is elected, but only a non β-oxidizable fatty acid entity if Group II or III is elected) to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

4. The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

Claims 48-84 are drawn to a method of treating the conditions listed in claims 48-52. Claims 48-108 comprise a non β-oxidizable fatty acid entity.

The following claim(s) are generic: 48-108.

5. The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: the conditions are separate conditions that are not necessarily treatable with the same medicaments (i.e., a drug that treats psoriasis may not be useful in the treatment of primary and secondary neoplasms), and the non β-oxidizable fatty acid entities were known in the art at the time of filing the instant application.

6. A telephone call was made to Richard J. Streit on 19 October 2009 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

7. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
